Use of Online Teaching During Covid Pandemic:

Online teaching facilities such as video conferencing tools, learning management systems, and digital course content platforms were extensively used to deliver lectures, conduct assessments, and facilitate group discussions. These tools enabled students and teachers to communicate in real-time and interact with each other as if they were in a physical classroom.

Faculty used various online teaching methods such as Zoom meeting app. Google meet to conduct online classes Google classrooms were created to communicate and supply notes or e content to the students. Google forms, Testmoz were used to conduct internal and external examination during the covid pandemic.
