The focus was on two major entrance exams: the Graduate Pharmacy Aptitude Test (GPAT) and the National Institute of Pharmaceutical Education and Research (NIPER) Entrance Exam . During the session, several participants raised questions regarding the difference in difficulty levels between GPAT and NIPER, and the best study resources. The faculty and experts provided detailed responses, highlighting that while GPAT mainly focuses on undergraduate-level knowledge, NIPER requires candidates to delve deeper into specialized subjects, which makes preparation for NIPER slightly more challenging.
